

The miserable summer. My own health had I am free to confess, much to do with it. I have been unable physically & hence less able to cope with a head trouble. My disappointments in people - in various direc-tions - has mortified & wounded me to the quick. On the top of all this - coming my fresh disappointments in the field of Amer-ica. I have been my nearly broken to bits - only the son of my darling daughter & friend to help me about mourning. But prayers - do as usual.
 My prayers have run here & there. my mind has wandered & kept with some time on the heels! - In my arrival in town on Monday night - after a search back in Italy. I found lots of things to attend to. First of foremost I was to see the architect & surveyor for my house in Boston Row. then a two hour sitting with your friend under at the dentist. I was on my feet in the city day long - from 1 o'clock until 6 1/2 when I got back here to dinner & I am supposed to wash with my hands & feet. that I had know how to contain myself - & often find me self with the hair running down my cheeks from pain. - This morning - I have been writing notes & letters. & now have to send off this letter mentioning note to you - my darling - to tell you that I have felt obliged to stop at Folkestone on my way on to Paris - to see poor dear Mrs Evans - (of the Temperance hosp. - Mrs Coates friend) who met with a most terrible accident on the steam pier across to Boulogne - about 12 weeks ago - I hope she is better. I have been laid up in Boulogne & now in Folkestone - on some business to see my - that as has concluded to remain on - but will have to come by the night days train leaving Folkestone - if the weather is not awful - on Sunday 12.40. & arriving at Paris. I. N. - I am very sorry for the detour - but so that I get to Paris in time to be with my darling on the birth day of sweetest dear old Robt. & shall be in time much - on the Monday morning. I am so glad to hear that you desire an so long that you read them on concert. There are myself - this is always a satisfaction. I have Indian furniture - all right. I am the horse - I have arranged. They will be in Paris on the Sunday night. I go to Marseille I have arranged about the forwarding of after much hesitation. - I hope to produce thing soon in Paris so as to leave on Saturday 14th going to Genoa the first day. To Turin the next. & Bologna. the next - & to Florence on the 17th or 18th - There we shall stay for a few days of rest - which I send Salvi to Rome to meet ready for us - He will have to do very little he can't to give permission for the horse to be out of quarantine. They will leave Marseille on the 22nd for Civita Vecchia on Sunday morning 15th - He must know where to go to have them landed. I suppose he ought to go to Cardinal Antonelli. immediately on his arrival officially - but all this Brown will set him by his that matter & the much ask -
