GLEANINGS.

Forrest.

The anticipated row at the Park Theatre on Monday night, did not take place. Previous to the performance, Forrest came forward, made a neat speech, and contradicted in the most positive manner the charge preferred against him, that he had been harsh to Mrs. Leggett.

Rights of Authors.

Mr. Fryon, the author of "Napoleon Spectacle," has instituted a suit against Thomas S. Hamblin, of the Bowery Theatre, for an infringement upon his copy-right.

Miss Cushman.

The New York Express says:—"Miss Charlotte Cushman will probably make the grand tour of Mr. Macready's engagements with him southward and westward. It would be an excellent arrangement for both parties. She would immeasurably improve by it, and he would be admirably supported."

Interest.

The New York Express says that the interest on the Ohio 7 per cent. stocks, due on the first of November, will be paid at the office of the Ohio Life and Trust Company. The amount to be paid is about $50,000.

American Books.

The New York Tribune has been informed that Tegg, a London bookseller and publisher, realized £30,000 from the sale of "The Girls' Own Book," "Frugal Housewife," &c. by Mrs. L. M. Child of New York. The first edition of her "Letters from New York" is entirely exhausted.

Deaths in New York last week, 158.

Cotton.

The New York Courier says:—"A moderate quantity of the new crop has made its appearance in market, which is of good color and staple—this however is usually the case with early gatherings—of the quantity that will be brought to market this season it is impossible yet to form a correct estimate. Frosts have already made their appearance in several extensive districts of Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama—and the general estimate now made at the South appears to be about 2,000,000 bales."

Mike Walsh presided and made a speech at a Working Men's Meeting in New York, on Monday afternoon.

Temperance.

Of the two regiments of U. S. troops stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo. five hundred of the men have signed the temperance pledge since the 1st of last month.

The Brig Linden.

The New York Courier states that this vessel cleared at Mobile, on the 23d Sept., for Providence, R I, but before reaching the bar lost the entire crew with the fever. Another crew having been obtained, the brig sailed a second time—when three days out, Captain Collins, the mate, sickened and died, and the second mate soon followed. She arrived off our coast some days since in charge of the first mate, who had also become disabled from the effects of the same malignant disease, after showing signals of distress for some days, and having been passed by several vessels, all of whom neglected or refused to lend assistance; she was finally boarded by Mr. S. H. Matthews, mate of the barque Anna Reynolds, of Boston, and by him conducted into Newport, where she arrived on Friday night last. We understand the underwriters of New York, who were on the brig Linden, have promptly presented to Mr. Matthews a suitable token of their regard for his services.
